PAY FOR NEW BOATS

Is Allowed by the Substitute For the Painter Bill.

WATER RATES TO BE REVISED

By Canal Commissioners and Board of Public Works—Information Looking to Improvement Asked.

So much interest is manifested in this section regarding the effort to abandon the canals of Ohio that news of the passage by the house of the measure substituted for the Painter bill was received with delight. The bill is comprehensive, and contains a number of important provisions. It follows:

Section 1. That it is hereby declared as the settled policy of this state that the Miami and Erie canal, together with its water supplies, reservoirs, dams, feeders and adjacent lands from Cincinnati to Toledo shall be retained and maintained as a public canal; also that the same policy is hereby declar d as to the northern division of the Ohio canal, together with its water supplies, reservoirs, dams, feeders and adjacent lands from Cleveland to Dresden on the Muskingum river; that no lands owned by the state in connection with either of these lines of canal shall be disposed of except by a special act of the general assembly of this state.

Section 2. That all boats hereafter built for use upon either of sai lines of canal for freight transportation shall be paid for by the state at their then true value in money if, at any time in the future, the policy of the state shall be changed by abandonment of either or both of said lines of canal so as to make such boats useless for transportation purposes.

Section 3. It is hereby declared as the settled policy of this state that the water supplies, reservoirs, dams, feeders and adjacent land thereto of the southern division of the Ohio canal from Dresden Junction to Lockborne, and from Columbus to Portsmouth shall be retained and maintained. That within sixty (60) days after the passage of this act, the governor of the state shall appoint a non-partisan commission consisting of two members, who, together with the state engineer, shall constitute a board of commissioners. The board of commissioners when appointed shall, with the assistance of a stenographer, which it is hereby authorized to employ to take all necessary testimony, proceed to investigate fully the condition of the southern division of the Ohio canal, and all the facts bearing upon the question of its improvement, maintenance, its present and future usefulness as a canal, together with all possible information bearing upon this subject, and report the same, together with recommendations to the next general assembly, pending which report the same shall be kept open for navigation.

Section 4. The said board of commissioners, together with the board of public works, shall within the present year investi ate all present water rate contracts on the two lines of canal mentioned in section 1 and revise and readjust them upon a fair and equitable basis as to the rents to be paid in the future. The board of commissioners and the board of public works shall also investigate the water rent contracts upon the lines of the canal mentioned in section three and make a special report to the next general assembly as to what extent the rates for water rent may be increased.

Section 5. The members of the board of commissioners, other than the said engineer, shall receive as compensation for their services under this act, the sum of $10 per day provided the time employed in the performance of said duties shall not exceed ninety days unless such time be extended on the certificate of the governor filed in the office of the auditor of state. Said members, other than the engineer, shall also be entitled to receive their actual expenses incurred while in the performance of their duties, and such reasonable compensation for the services of a stenographer as the board of commissioners may allow, and shall be paid by warrant on the treasurer of state upon vouchers being filed in the office of the auditor of state and approved by the state engineer.

While no action was taken looking to the appropriation of the necessary amount of money to maintain the canals the vote indicates that there will be no difficulty in taking care of that matter in the regular appropriation bill which the finance committee is now making up. The only fight will be on the amount, but the friends of the canals are now confident that a fair amount will be set aside for the improvement of at least the Miami & Erie and the northern section of the Ohio canal, that part between Cleveland and Dresden.

Young Couple Licensed.

A marriage license was granted this morning to Legrand V. Jones, of Bladensburg, and Miss Miss Myrtle O. Hawthorne, of Bedford township. The young man gave his age as 21 and the young woman presented credentials to show that although only 16 her parents consented to the marriage. They were nervous until after the license was granted, but immediately left the courthouse to find a minister to perform the ceremony.

SHAW IS BOUND OVER

He Waived Examination in Mayor Cassingham's Court.

GAVE BOND FOR FIVE HUNDRED

Another Chapter in the Chicken Case Has Been Written, and the Grand Jury Will Deal With the Matter.

Another chapter in the chicken stealing case was written when one of the men charged with the crime was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $500.

John L. Shaw, whose case had been hanging fire for several days because of the absence of parties whose testimony was needed, was given a hearing by Mayor Cassingham Wednesday afternoon. Shaw waived examination, and was bound over to the grand jury. There were two charges against him, and bail for $250 in each case was asked. His father became his security, and he was released. The chicken case has attracted a great deal of attention, and its course in common pleas court will be closely watched.

ATLANTIC CITY DOOMED.

Great Fire Raging, Many Buildings Destroyed and Young's Pier is In Flames.

[Special Telegram to THE AGE.]

ATLANTIC CITY, April 3—Fire starting in the Tailton hotel this morning, burned a half dozen hotels and many other buildings. The high wind drove the flames through the city, and the fire was soon beyond control of the department. Assistance came from Philadelphia but it is feared too late.

Young's ocean pier is in flames and the entire city seems doomed.

MANY CERTIFICATES GRANTED.

Long List of Successful Applicants at Last Examination.

Following are the names of successful applicants at the teachers' examination held March 22:

Two years—J. H. Schooler, E. T. Deibel, Lee Butler, J. E. Lyons, J. C. Wells.

One year—Della Leech, Ethel Latham, Mabel Miskimen, Letitia English, Laverna Cline, Ada Kreider, Lucy Lonsinger, Maggie A. Park, Amanda Welling, Nora B. Frye, W. L. Craig, D. L. Ashcraft, Wheeler Ashcraft, C. M. Hamilton, A. H. Feller, J. H. Voitz, S. C. Leech, Wilbur Lane, W. H. Miller, Allen Bower, C. F. Schlarb, F. D. Riffey, James Beall, J. B. Eider, H. F. Chubb, E. D. Must Care For Soldiers' Graves.

House bill by Representative Devaul, making it a duty of county commissioners to provide for the proper care of the graves of all Federal soldiers and sailors in their respective counties that have been or may hereafter be buried in lots used exclusively for the benefit of such dead in cemeteries or burying grounds, has passed the senate and become a law.

Methodist Protestant Finances.

Rev. Dr. Fisher and many members of the Walnut M. P. church are laboring earnestly to collect the subscriptions due the church in order that the note may be paid Saturday and burned on Sunday. A considerable amount of money is still out and Doctor Fisher earnestly desires it to be paid before that time. If the money is in hand the church debt will be lifted and one of the greatest church works ever done in Coshocton will have been accomplished.

A Nuisance.

The small boy with an innocent looking airgun is a dangerous institution, and a great many of them are seen in Coshocton these days. The appearance of the birds of spring never fails to bring them out, and this year they are more numerous than ever. The police should take the matter in hand, and prevent the indiscriminate shooting going on in the city. Small boys and guns make a combination that usually means accident for some innocent person.

Shot a Crane.

A party of young men went hunting Wednesday near the six mile dam. A fine trophy in the shape of a beautiful crane was brought back by William C. Robertson and proudly displayed to his friends. The crane is a beauty and will probably be mounted.

TO CONTEST ELECTION

That Special School District Matter is Not Settled.

FRIENDS OF OPPOSITION WON

New Directors Posted Notice of Another Election To Decide Whether Nellie District Should Stand.

Although the legislature has passed the law creating a special school district in the west half of Jefferson township with headquarters at Nellie the matter still seems to be unsettled. After the passage of the bill an election for members of the board of education was called under the law governing special school districts. Three places were to be filled, and six candidates were announced, one set from the people who had been battling for the district, and the others from those who were opposed to it.

The candidates favoring the district were Ed Darling, John Kanuckle and Jacob Rodock, while those in opposition were J. L. Moore, Robert Laughlin and Columbus Hart. The election was held Wednesday in the old postoffice building at Nellie and was under the law regulating such elections. The friends of the district received 59 votes each, while the opponents were each given 139.

L. M. Stotts, chairman of the election, refused to sign the certificates except under protest. With the friends of the candidates who had received the short end of the votes cast he held that the ballots used were not legal. According to the law as interpreted by the friends of the new district the tickets used were not in accordance with law. When written on white paper they claim tickets may be of any size, but when printed they are to be no wider than 2½ inches. The statement is made that tickets used Wednesday were 3½ inches in width.

The new board organized at once by electing J. L. Moore president and Jacob Funk special clerk. They were sworn in by Justice Meredith. They at once posted a notice calling an election for April 12, from one to four in the afternoon, at the Darling schoolhouse, when the question of abandoning the Nellie special district will be submitted to the people.

Mr. Stotts, Mr. Darling and a number of their interested parties came to Coshocton today for the purpose of consulting attorneys regarding the contest.

Although there was some excitement at Nellie while the election was in progress there was no disturbance, the people of each side being earnest in their desire to win.

WEST CARLISLE.

WEST CARLISLE, April 3—The teachers' meeting at this place was largely attended and the general feeling prevail d that the meeting was a great success.

Miss Fern Chaney is unable to be at school on account of illness.

We have a few sheep feeders in this locality but none who struck it as did George W. Oxley who shipped four loads of over 400 western lambs and yearlings last week that sold for $6 40 and $7 per head. These sheep were bought in Chicago last fall and laid down here at a cost of $2 75 per head or $3 50 per hundred weight. Mr. Oxley put on a gain of 34 pounds per head.

Miss Barbara Preston and Dwight Axline who have been ill with scarlet fever are improving.

Those who attended and passed at the last teachers' examination from this school are: Wheeler Ashcraft, Daniel Ashcraft, Forrest Riffey and Lionel Latham.

Miss Grace Botts, of Newark, visited here.

The county teachers' examining board met with Prof McClure Saturday.

Some sheep were shorn in this neighborhood last week.

W. Holtz and Ruel Van Winkle were in Coshocton Saturday.

H. W. Botts was at home from Newark over Sunday.

Easter exercises were held in the M. E. church in the morning and at the Presbyterian church in the evening. Good programs were rendered by the young people for the occasion.

Wheat is All Right.

Farmers who have been watching the matter closely predict a good wheat crop for Coshocton county. They say the fields have come through the winter well, and a spring such as [illegible] at hand will take good care of the crop. Reports from fly infested districts a few years ago fail to show the presence of the destructive insect. Taken all in all they look for a large crop of wheat.

REVELED IN BLOOD.

Crimes of Australian Officers Executed In South Africa.

STORY JUST PUBLISHED ABROAD.

Shot Natives Like Rabbits and Murdered a Party of Boers For the Purpose of Robbery—Missionary Informer Also Killed—Indignation In Australia Over the Executions.

London, April 3.—The Morning Leader publishes the story of the crimes which led to the courtmartial and execution of two Australian officers in South Africa, which is just now exciting keen indignation in Australia. The newspaper asserts that several officers of this particular irregular corps shot natives like rabbits, and that they are even suspected of murdering men of their own command against whom they had grudges.

The incident which led to their courtmartial was the cold-blooded "execution" by these officers of 10 Boers who were journeying to Pietersburg with the object of surrendering. It was supposed these Boers had £20,000 with them. Actuated by cupidity, the Australians stopped the Boers, tried them by mock courtmartial and ordered all to be shot. This was done by a squadron of the soldiers after some of the noncommissioned officers had refused to carry out the death sentence. The officers then ransacked the Boer wagons and were disgusted upon finding that the £20,000 was in Transvaal paper money.

Continuing, The Morning Leader says a German missionary a few miles distant from the scene of the execution" heard of the affair. Lieutenant Hancock, one of the Australians concerned, fearing he would divulge his information, shot the missionary dead. This shooting eventually led to a complaint by the German consul to Lord Kitchener, who proceeded to courtmartial the Australians.

Al Spalding Retires.

New York, April 3.—The National league baseball war is practically ended. A. G. Spalding has resigned his claim as chief executive of the organization and the office will be tendered to William G. Temple of Pittsburg. There will be no further contest in the courts. Mr. Spalding's letter of resignation was presented to the magnates at the second day's session of the peace conference at the Fifth Avenue hotel. The letter was presented by James Hart, president of the Chicago club.

Work of the House.

Washington, April 3.—The house passed the sundry civil appropriation bill. This is the eighth of the regular annual supply bills which has passed at this session. Only a few unimportant amendments were attached to it. After it was disposed of debate on the revenue cutter bill was resumed. Messrs. Sulzer (N. Y.), Bellamy (N. C.), Ryan (N. Y.), Lessler (N. Y.) and Goldfogle (N. Y.) spoke for the measure and Messrs. Loud (Cal.) and Crumpacker (Ind.) against it.

Weavers Quit.

Webster, Mass., April 3.—About 139 weavers in the Chase woolen mill of the American Woolen company went out on strike, partly on account of the refusal of the company to concede their demand for an increase of wages and partly out of sympathy with the strikers at the Olneyville, R. I. mill of the same company. The other departments of the mill are still running, but in a short time they will be forced to close because of the stopping of the weaving department.

Oleo and the American Girl.

Washington, April 3.—Discussion of the oleomargarine bill in the senate was enlivened by two or three bright colloquies between senators. Mr. Bailey (Tex.) concluded his speech in opposition to the measure. The argument was brilliant and at times eloquent. He was followed by Mr. Depew (N. Y.) in a bright and witty speech in support of the measure. Mr. Depew matched his wit with that of Mr. Bailey on the subject of the American girl, and the sallies of the two senators were greeted with shouts of laughter both on the floor and in the galleries.

Railway Station Robbed.

Braddock, Pa., April 3.—When the Pennsylvania railroad station was almost deserted at midnight, and Byron Thomas, the night agent, was the only man on duty, two men wearing uniforms similar to those worn by regular railroaders entered the ticket office, and while one of them stood over Thomas with a revolver the other looted the office, securing about $200 in cash. A tin box containing $1,500 in bills was cast aside by the robbers because the jingle of coin could not be heard when they shook the box.

Remains of Cecil Rhodes.

Cape Town, April 3.—A private service for his family and friends was held over the remains of Cecil Rhodes at Groote Schuur. The body was brought here at midnight and deposited in the vestibule of the parliament building. The coffin is draped with a tattered union jack which belonged to Mr. Rhodes, and which he regarded with peculiar veneration. A beautiful wreath of flowers from Queen Alexandra has been placed at the head of the bier. Rudyard Kipling will take part in the funeral procession.

Stabbed With Scissors.

Muskogee, I. T., April 3.—The dead body of Will Hayes, 24, of Wheeling, W. Va., was found in a vacant lot near the business section of Wagoner, I. T. A pair of bloody scissors, with which Hayes had evidently been stabbed to death, lay near the body. The man's watch was missing and his pockets had been rifled. Six men and three women, all negroes, were arrested on suspicion of connection with the murder, and owing to threats of lynching at Wagoner the prisoners have been brought to Muskogee.

Hunted Wilkes Booth.

Marlboro, Mass., April 3.—Councilman James B. Goddard died suddenly of heart trouble. He was born in 1847, and served in Third Massachusetts artillery in the civil war. In 1865 he was detailed with others to capture John Wilkes Booth, the assassin of President Lincoln, and it was he who furnished information which led to the capture of two others of the conspirators.

Meat Prices Advanced.

Chicago, April 3.—An advance of half a cent per pound on dressed beef went into effect at the stock yards, all the packers responding to the repeated advances that have taken place in the last week on cattle on the hoof. The top price for cattle, $7.50 per 100 pounds, is the highest April price since 1882. Hogs sold at record price for the year, $7.05.

Voted to Strike.

Boston, April 3.—The two brewery workers' unions, comprising about 1,200 inside men employed by the 26 breweries in this city, voted not to report for duty because of the master brewers' refusal to concede their demands for shorter hours with the same wages as at present and for certain other concessions.

The Military Suit.

FOUR DAYS

Passengers Were Snowbound on the Plains of North Dakota.

St. Paul, April 3.—Passengers arriving on a Great Northern train due last Friday tell of being snowbound for four days and five nights on the prairies of North Dakota in the midst of the worst blizzard the northwest has seen in many years with only food enough for two frugal meals a day, and with such a small amount of fuel that the ladies had to wrap themselves in blankets and the men to wear their overcoats day and night to keep from freezing. The train was completely lost to the world. Late Thursday afternoon it picked its way out of Williston in the hope of being able to reach Minot, 14 miles away, before night. Almost midway, at a little stopping place called Ray, where there is only a siding, a water tank and a coal shed, the train stalled.

Brewery Fight at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, April 3.—At a meeting of the Central Labor council of Cincinnati, Covington, Newport and adjoining towns, 52 trades and labor unions being represented, sympathy with the United Brewery Workers was expressed, the boycott emphasized and war declared on the engineers and firemen, as well as on the local breweries. The local brewers have made a general denial of the declaration of Central Labor council. They claim that the battle now waged is one of jurisdiction over which the employer has no control whatever. It is a controversy, they say, between the upholders of trade autonomy, to which the American Federation of Labor is pledged, and industrial autonomy, which that certain labor element is endeavoring to force upon the federation.

Results In New Mexico.

Santa Fe, April 3.—City elections in New Mexico resulted in decided Republican victories in the four largest cities of the territory. Santa Fe elected the whole city ticket except two aldermen and one school director, a gain of one alderman and one school director for the Democrats. Las Vegas elected a Republican mayor and a Democratic city clerk and city treasurer. The Republicans elected all except two aldermen. Mayor George P. Money, son of Senator Money of Mississippi, was defeated by 30 votes in Raton.

Could Fill the Paper With Them.

This paper might be filled with items like the following, and every one be the absolute truth. I had rheumatism for years and tried almost everything, but got no permanent relief until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm, three bottles of which have cured me. It the best medicine ever used.—Philip E. Rhoads, Pennville, Mo. Pain Balm is for sale by C. E. Anderson No. 2, Forbes block.

Fell From the Gallery.

New York, April 3.—Just as the curtain rung down on the last act of the play at the Third Avenue theater Benjamin Barnett, who had been sitting in a front seat of the gallery, accidentally toppled over and fell 80 feet to the orchestra floor. He was taken to a hospital in a dying condition. In falling Barnett brushed with his feet the dress of a woman who had just moved into the aisle, and broke the seat in which she had been sitting.

Secretary Hay to Appear.

Washington, April 3.—After consulting Chairman Dalzell of the special committee to investigate Captain Christmas charges in connection with the transfer of the Danish West Indian islands, Secretary Hay has indicated to the committee his intention to appear in person before it as a witness.

Presbyterian Creed Revision.

Pittsburg, April 3.—It is now understood that the Presbyterian creed revision committee will get together next Wednesday in Washington on a unanimous report, so as to save serious trouble in the assembly. Dr. William R. Crabbe will leave for Washington on Tuesday night, and he thinks that this will be the final meeting of the committee before making its report to the assembly. He believes that it will be adopted as a compromise measure, signed by all the members of the committee.

Fraud Charged.

Ashland, Wis., April 3.—The town of Hayward, in Sawyer county, is greatly excited over the election, and Judge Bailey is said to have advised the presence of state troops to preserve order. A reform ticket, which was elected by a great majority, is said by incumbent officers to have been the result of questionable methods, and the incumbent officers refuse absolutely to recognize the newly elected set of officers as their successors.

Troops Guard a Ravisher.

Edenton, N. C., April 3.—A heavy military guard was established over the jail in this city to protect Thomas Early, a negro, who on last Monday attempted to assault Pearl Berry, 16, at Ryland, N. C. Early afterward escaped, but was caught near Suffolk, Va. Lynching was feared at Ryland and officers took the negro to Edenton by a roundabout route. Early has confessed to the crime with which he is charged.

An Indication of Nervous Trouble.

Hagee's as it is

Hagee's Cordial of Cod Liver Oil (with hypophosphites lime and soda) is pure Norwegian cod liver oil with the grease left out. It is a thin, palatable liquid with very pleasant odor and very agreeable taste. Physicians recognize cod liver oil as the greatest tonic, stimulant, alterative, reconstructive, nutritive and digestive—but it is more effective when the grease is removed. Hagee's Cordial contains no grease. Hagee's is immediately assimilated and goes at once to produce blood, flesh, nerve—and bone. It is food rather than medicine.

Hagee's Cordial cures Coughs, Colds, La Grippe, Weak Lungs, Bronchitis, Consumption, Catarrhal Conditions, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Indigestion, Mal-assimilation, Rheumatism, Skin Diseases, Pimples, Blotches, Weakened Conditions following fevers, Impoverished Blood—makes more and better flesh—by restoring natural conditions. Sold by all druggists.

TO BE INVESTIGATED

Charges of Cruelty at the Girls' Industrial Home.

BOARD OF CHARITIES TO CONDUCT IT.

Willis and Cole Taxation Measures to Be Favorably Reported to the Senate—Other Proceedings of the Ohio Legislature and General News of the Buckeye State.

Columbus, April 3.—Senator Decker's resolution, authorizing an investigation of modes of punishment employed at the Girls' Industrial home, with especial reference to the manner in which Nora Ferris met her death 15 months ago, was adopted by the senate. The investigation is to be made by the board of state charities, of which Governor Nash, ex-officio, is the president. The governor, when informed of the senate's action, said that the adoption of the resolution is sufficient to warrant the proposed investigation, and it is believed that it will be ordered promptly.

Senator Chamberlain of Lorain introduced a bill permitting electric lines and gas companies to consolidate.

These bills of a general nature were passed by the senate: H. B. requiring that notice of sale of bonds shall be printed in two newspapers of opposite politics; H. B. to prohibit the delivery or disposing of drugs, medicines, antiseptics, disinfectants and cosmetics, either for internal or external use upon the premises of another.

The Willis and Cole taxation measures will be reported to the senate favorably at once and the committee will seek to have them made a special order for Wednesday of next week. The Republican senators, who have been holding out, with but a single exception, have withdrawn their opposition.

The house passed the bottlers' bill. The measure provides that bottlers of ginger ale, soda water, mineral waters or beverages of any kind may register the designs of their bottles with the secretary of state and it becomes a misdemeanor to use them by any other person.

The Beal bill, providing for municipal local option, is now a law, the house having concurred in the senate amendments. There was no objection to the concurrence. Mr. Beal of Carroll Harrison, the author of the bill, made a short explanation, saying that the amendments of the senate were satisfactory to both sides.

Important Legal Decision.

Cleveland, April 3.—Judge Phillips of the common pleas court overruled the demurrers filed by the waterworks tunnel contractors, against whom damage suits were recently filed by the administrators of the 11 men who were killed by an explosion in 1898. Judge Phillips held that the petitions filed showed want of due appreciation on the part of the city as well as the contractors. Each of the 11 plaintiffs asked for $10,000 damages. The decision will probably have an important bearing on the suits filed by relatives of victims of last summer's tunnel disaster.

To Investigate Bribery Charges.

Toledo, April 3.—Judge Kinkaid of the common pleas bench created a sensation by announcing the names of a grand jury composed of prominent business men of the city. He instructed them to investigate various city boards and officials and also to investigate the charges of jury bribing, which have been made frequently of late. He said the jury could have 30 days if it desired.

Ohio Postmasters.

Washington, April 3.—Confirmations by the senate: Civil Engineer Mordecai T. Endicott, to be chief of the bureau of yards and docks, United States navy. Also a large number of naval promotions. Postmasters: Ohio—John H. Tripp, Carrollton; Martin L. Miller, Steubenville; Joseph A. Shriver, Manchester; Charles W. Searles, Madison.

For a Terminal.

Cleveland, April 3.—The Wheeling and Lake Erie Railroad company has purchased 175 acres of land extending along the lake front of the Grand river at Fairport, O., and will make that point the terminal of the road, which will be used, when extended to the south Jefferson county coal fields, as a coal carrier for northwest lake ports.

Fatal Freight Wreck.

New Philadelphia, O., April 3.—Two men were killed in a freight collision at Strasburg on the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling road. The dead are: Brakeman Michael O. Furey, of New Philadelphia, and a fireman name not ascertained. The wreck was caused by a misunderstanding of orders.

Men Discharged.

Youngstown, O., April 3.—The American Bridge company posted notices at the local shop notifying the 300 employes that they are discharged Monday. 24 boy rivet heaters struck and the old workers followed them out. The men were later initiated into the American Federation of Labor.

Ohio Representative Dead.

Cleveland, April 3.—Representative Otto Janson is dead at his home in this city. He was a sufferer from yellow jaundice. The funeral services will be held Saturday, and a committee appointed by the state legislature will attend.

Commissioner Bradford.

Ardmore, I. T., April 3.—United States Commissioner S. B. Bradford is dead. He was stricken with apoplexy Monday and never regained consciousness.

TWO REPORTS

Submitted to the House on the Pure Food Bill.

Washington, April 3.—Reports on the Hepburn pure food bill were presented to the house by the majority and minority. The majority report says the measure represents the views of all persons and associations seeking effective pure food legislation. The report says the necessity of such legislation is shown by the vast number of adulterations and debasements on the market, most of them being imposed upon poor people. The measure, the report adds, is in no sense paternalistic, but merely protective, the same as the laws against counterfeiting and forgery. Mr. Adamson of Georgia, in a dissenting report, says the founders of the republic never intended that the federal government should prescribe menus and codes of table etiquette. He urged that food regulation should be left to the states. Mr. Corliss (Mich.) also dissents on the ground that the bill gives arbitrary power to fix standards, require labels, etc., and that uncertainty and confusion will result.

Venezuela's Grievance.

Caracas, April 3.—The Republica, a semi-official newspaper, has recently published several indignant articles against the authorities of the British island of Trinidad, on account of the hospitality shown the Matos revolutionary steamer Bolivar, in permitting her to enter the harbor of Port of Spain and to coal and repair there, notwithstanding the fact that friendly relations exist between Great Britain and Venezuela. The Republica urges the Venezuelan government immediately to adopt reprisals against Trinidad by excluding all vessels from that island from the eastern ports of Venezuela, and by the imposition of an additional duty of 30 per cent on all goods brought to Venezuela by British steamers touching at Trinidad. The Republica also urges Venezuela to demand an indemnity from Great Britain for damages.

Lands of Friars.

Washington, April 3.—The provision for the purchase of the friars' lands in the Philippine Islands was under consideration by the house committee on insular affairs, in connection with the Philippines civil government bill, which is nearing completion. The bill provides for acquiring the lands at a fair valuation, to be assessed by a board. Thereafter the lands are to be opened to homestead entry under laws somewhat similar to the system in this country. Considerable opposition developed to this section, and the matter was not disposed of finally.

Engineers Quit.

Butte, Mon., April 3.—Three thousand miners employed in Anaconda, Parrot and Washoe properties are walking the streets as a result of the strike of the stationary engineers at the mines of the above companies. The strikers number but 30 men, yet not a cage has been lowered in any of the properties mentioned, and there is a possibility of the smelters at Anaconda being closed down in part or wholly as a consequence. The engineers' union does not indorse the action of the striking engineers.

End of a Row.

Sullivan, Ind., April 3.—Thomas Greggs, 50, a miner of Star City, is dead from a gunshot wound inflicted by himself. Greggs and his wife were having trouble, and during a scuffle Greggs, who had a gun, received a part of its contents in the stomach. Jumping to his feet, he pointed the weapon at his throat and pulled the trigger, severing the jugular vein. Greggs had a wife and nine children, coming to Star City from Knightstown.

New Currency Bill.

Washington, April 3.—The banking and currency committee of the house made much progress on the comprehensive financial measure which has been framed embodying proposed changes in the currency and banking laws, heretofore urged in separate bills. The measure is entitled "To maintain the gold standard, provide an elastic currency, equalize the rates of interest throughout the country and amend the national banking laws."

Policy-Holders Dissatisfied.

Savannah, Ga., April 3.—John Morris was appointed receiver for the Anxil Insurance company upon the application of dissatisfied policy-holders. The company recently sold out to the American Guild, and it is claimed by the policy-holders that the face value of their policies was to be cut down.

A VALUABLE MEDICINE.

For Coughs and Colds in Children.

"I have not the slightest hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to all who are suffering from coughs or colds," says Chas. M. Cramer, Esq., a well known watch maker, of Colombo, Ceylon. "It has been some two years since the city dispensary first my attention to this valuable medicine and I have repeatedly used it and it has always been beneficial. It has cured me quickly of all chest colds. It's especially effective for children and seldom takes more than one bottle to cure them of hoarseness. I have pursuaded many to try this valuable medicine, and they are all as well pleased as myself over the results. For sale by C. E. Anderson No. 2, Forbes block.

CURRENCY QUESTION

Disturbing the Merchants of Manila. Message to Roosevelt.

Manila, April 3.—At a meeting of the chamber of commerce, at which all the members were present, it was decided to send a cablegram to President Roosevelt urging congress to take immediate action concerning the currency questions here, which, owing to the present depreciation of silver and the ratio of exchange of $2.27 Mexican for $1 gold, fixed by the United States Philippine commission for the ensuing quarter, has caused an immense loss of business and a great increase in the local prices of necessaries.

Women Smash a Joint.

Lexington, Ky., April 3.—Twelve women, followers of Carrie Nation, all heavily veiled, raided a "joint" at Eddyville, smashing the large mirror and other furniture and destroying several cases of liquor. James Hammond, charged with keeping the place, was given 24 hours to leave town or receive a coat of tar and feathers.

Grand Army Encampment Rates.

Chicago, April 3.—Reduced rates for the encampment of the Grand Army to be held in Washington, Oct. 6 to 11, together with lower fares between Chicago and New York during the same period and for other occasions, were established by the eastbound roads. The encampment fare will be 1 cent a mile in each direction.

Goes to Chicago.

Elyria, O., April 3.—A. C. Gary, a nephew of Judge Gary, former president of the Federal Steel company and now a director of the United States Steel corporation, has just resigned the treasurership of the Lorain Steel company to accept the position of credit manager for the Illinois Steel company at Chicago.

Clarke's Election Assured.

Little Rock, April 3.—Authentic returns give the following revised figures on the United States senatorship: For James P. Clarke, 74 members of the general assembly; for James K. Jones, 47; doubtful, 14. There are 135 members, and the number required to elect a senator is 68. The election of Clarke is now assured.

Terrorizing the Turks.

Vienna, April 3.—The Neue Freie Presse of this city publishes a startling report, current in Belgrade, to the effect that the famous Albanian chief Isia Boljetinao, with 900 followers, has crossed the Turkish frontier into the sub-province of Novibazar, where he is terrorizing the Turkish populace and threatening a general massacre.

Murder and Robbery.

Austin, Tex., April 3.—Mrs. O. L. Levy, aged 70, and living 16 miles west of here on Barton creek, was murdered and robbed. The house was afterward fired and parts of the remains were burned.

TRIBUTE PAID RHODES

A Millionaire Without a Sixpence, Says W. T. Stead.

TRUTH ABOUT JAMESON RAID TOLD

Well Known Journalist Explains How Africa's Diamond King Held Secretary Chamberlain In His Hand's Hollow—Some Interesting Anecdotes Depictive of His Life and Character.

In the death of Cecil Rhodes Africa has lost its only statesman, the world one of its greatest human forces, and I have lost a very dear and very faithful friend, writes William T. Stead in the New York Journal.

Mr. Rhodes, a millionaire with imagination, aspired to be to the English speaking race what Ignatius Loyola was to the Catholic church when it reeled beneath the Protestant reformation. He saw that the new times required new measures. The empire which had been made by adventurers, as Gordon said, needed to be maintained by adventurers. He applied himself to the task with a whole heart. To found the new society—not of Jesus, but of the English speaking man—Mr. Rhodes saw it was necessary "to put money in thy purse." He put money in his purse to the tune of millions. No one alleges that he did so unlawfully or ruthlessly. He formed the greatest trust or combine the world had up to that time ever seen in the creation of De Beers diamond mine.

Mr. Rhodes was the first of the money kings of the African world. But to him money was never an end in itself. No one so mercilessly satirized the mere millionaire who had millions, but no mind; who, while brooding like a nestling hen over incalculable potentialities of power, never hatched out a single chicken of political or social achievement. Mr. Rhodes was a man of different mold. To him the only joy in the possession of money was to use it for the realization of great ideas. No man ever realized more absolutely the ideal of being a mere steward of his worldly possessions. He was always straining even his vast resources to accomplish his still vaster designs.

"You once wrote of me," said Mr. Rhodes to me on one occasion, "that I was a millionaire who never had a sixpence. If you only knew how true that was! Why, today my banker tells me my bank account is overdrawn by £80,000."

All his credits were overdrawn, especially his credit upon the Bank of Life. He lived eagerly, worked constantly and attempted ever to do greater things than mortal man could accomplish.

He always seemed to be a reincarnation of one of the great rulers whose genius and valor essayed in vain to arrest the decadence of the Roman empire. He was reared in the philosophy of Aristotle, which he readjusted in accordance with the science of Darwin. His mind always turned hungrily to the history and the remains of the Roman empire. He rushed across Europe once in the midst of business in order to see with his own eyes the geographical argument which led Constantine to transfer the seat of empire from the Tiber to the Bosporus. Always when things went badly with him and ruin stared him in the face he consoled himself by the thought of the stoic philosophy of the Cæsars.

I once mentioned to him the subject of reincarnation. He replied that the subject did not interest him. "Life is too short," he used to say, "to worry about previous lives. From the cradle to the grave—what is it? Three days at the seaside, just that and nothing more. But, although it is only three days, we must be doing something. I cannot spend my time throwing stones into the water." His "three days at the seaside" are ended now, and the world is poorer by the loss of one of its greatest men.

Mr Chamberlain is now left alone in solitary pre-eminence as the one strong man of the British empire. He is also freed from his only fear. As long as Mr Rhodes lived Mr Chamberlain was compelled to walk humbly before him. Before the Jameson raid he went in constant fear lest Mr Rhodes would use the Dutch in order to enable him to become first president of the United States of South Africa. After the Jameson raid Chamberlain feared him even worse, for Mr. Rhodes held in his hands the secret which might at any moment not merely compel him to leave the colonial office, but finally terminate his public career.

Dead men tell no tales. But Mr. Rhodes' secret was not locked in his own bosom. It is known to at least half a dozen intimates that there would have been no Jameson fiasco but for Mr Chamberlain. His unworthy suspicions of Mr Rhodes' loyalty in the first place, his overweening ambition in the second place, and in the third place his utter ignorance of the result of his own action were the causes which brought about the Jameson raid. Mr Rhodes, unhampered by Mr Chamberlain, would never have made such a fiasco, while if Mr Chamberlain had not been mortally afraid of Mr Rhodes he would never have given him the facilities for making the raid.

I was very anxious in the interest of South Africa and of the general principles of peace and decency to have my friend Mr Rhodes sent to jail for his share in the Jameson raid.

"All right," he said. "If I must, I must. But I shall not go alone."

But he was never prosecuted, and, as he used frequently to say to me when I expostulated with him for taking part in the ghastly fraud of the hushup South Africa committee: "Well, well, you may be right enough, but it is not for me to give Joe away. No other colonial secretary would have done so much to help me, and although he made a mess of it he meant well."

But there was never the slightest question in Mr. Rhodes' mind that he held Mr. Chamberlain in the hollow of his hand. Even an indiscretion on his part would suffice to cause Mr. Chamberlain to disappear. If I refer to this sad phase of a career which at one time promised to be the most brilliant of our time, it is because the whole tragedy of South African history hinged upon the fateful telegram in which Mr. Rhodes was warned that he could expect no support from the colonial secretary unless Dr. Jameson went in under the British flag. From that moment everything went wrong. The long and bloody coil which is still being unwound before our eyes dates from that dispatch. And now we have to lament in the death of Mr. Rhodes the greatest and most illustrious victim of the results of that piece of Chamberlainism since Queen Victoria fell death stricken on learning from Lord Roberts the truth about the unending war.

Among the many anecdotes related of Cecil Rhodes here is one about one of his gigantic schemes. Mr. Rhodes was ever full of resources and originality, writes "A Cape Girl." He once started a cemetery at Kimberley and took a great deal of pains to make it perfect, chose the site carefully, had it elaborately planted with trees and did everything possible to make it a brilliant success, if the phrase may pass in this connection. After it was completed he went away from Kimberley for some time, and when he returned after the declaration of war he went with his manager to look at his cemetery and found it—empty. "This won't do!" exclaimed Mr. Rhodes. "What's the meaning of it? Why is it empty?" His manager said he fancied it was because the women had an idea that, being a new place, it would be a little solitary. "Oh, but I can't have that! I'll offer them a premium for the first man buried here," said Mr. Rhodes, a little piqued at the bare idea of a scheme of his verging on failure and determined at any cost to bring about a success.

He began by offering a bonus to widows who would bring their husbands to be buried in his cemetery, quite a large sum of money, but of no avail. Eventually one poor woman allowed her husband to be buried there. He was interred with great pomp and state, and a handsome marble stone was erected over his grave. But even then the scheme hung fire. The inhabitants passing the gates of the beautiful cemetery would look through the railings and see the one gentleman lying there in solitary state and go away shaking their heads and thinking how lonely it must be. Then Mr. Rhodes got so exasperated that he increased the bonus until it was a very large sum. Then the inhabitants gradually began to weaken, one after the other bringing their dead to the lonely cemetery. And the thing grew, very slowly, but gradually increasing, concludes "A Cape Girl" rather grimly, until it developed into a great success. Now the cemetery is filling up in quite a healthy way. This is one of Mr. Rhodes' gigantic schemes which in any other hands but his own would have been a failure.

Earl Grey in a recent interview on Rhodes said to a New York Tribune reporter:

"Let me tell you a touching little incident which pleasantly reflects my friend as I see him. I was in Rhodesia with him the year after the raid. His house at Cape Town, which contained the collection of a lifetime and which as Rhodes never married was almost as near and dear to him as a wife and family, was burned to the ground. Coming on top of the raid, rinderpest, the Matabele war, this culminating trouble alarmed his friends for him, and I was asked by wire from Cape Town to break it to him. I said to him as we were riding on the veldt, 'Can you bear to hear of another great disaster which has overtaken you?' Rhodes was a man of great nerve, but he turned very pale and said, 'What is it now?' I said, 'Your home is burned.' 'Oh, thank God!' he said. 'I feared poor Dr Jim (Jameson) was dead.' The doctor had been very ill in prison, and we were both anxious about him.

"'Chinese' Gordon had a great admiration for Mr. Rhodes. One day as the two were walking together in Basutoland Mr. Rhodes chaffed Gordon with letting the natives take him as the big man, whereas the 'big man' was really Mr Sauer, the Cape secretary for native affairs. 'You ought to explain that he is somebody and you are nobody,' said Mr. Rhodes, and at the next indaba the general stepped before the chiefs and, pointing to Mr. Sauer, said: 'You are making a great mistake in treating me as the big man. That is the great man of the whites. I am only his servant, only his dog; nothing more.'

"Mr Rhodes was amazed that Gordon had taken it seriously, and when the indaba was over Gordon explained that he had done it because he thought it was the right thing to do, though he added, 'It was hard—very hard.' Gordon pleaded with Mr. Rhodes to stay in Basutoland and work with him. 'There are very few men in the world to whom I would make such an offer—very few men, I can tell you. But of course you will have your own way.' And again, when he set out for Khartum on his fatal last journey, the merest coincidence kept Mr. Rhodes from accompanying him. Gordon wired asking him to go, and on the same morning Mr Rhodes received an offer of a post in the Cape ministry. But for that he might have perished in Khartum with Gordon—just as, but for a cold he caught while rowing at Oxford, which seriously affected his lungs, he might never have gone out to Africa."

The Dregs And After Results Of Terrible Grippe Lead to Consumption and Other Fatal Troubles.

Paine's Celery Compound

Saves a Former Member of the Indiana Legislature.

This is the Season to Use the Great Medicine if you Would Banish the Seeds of Disease From the System.

On every hand we see men and women who at this season should be active, hale, and strong, losing flesh and weight, looking pale and languid. We hear them complain of weakness, pain in the chest, backache and sideache. Their friends note with alarm the pale cheeks and sunken eyes; the [illegible] of the skin gives evidence of blood impurities.

And, reader, these are all indications that the deadly dregs of grippe have permeated the whole system, distributing poisons and impurities in blood and tissues.

Act at once with wisdom and decision. You cannot afford to lose precious time experimenting with medicines that have no reputation, that have no positive victories to their credit.

Heaven help you to use the life saver that rescued and saved Mr. Stephenson. While in a perilous condition of health, providence truly directed Mr. Stephenson to make use of Paine's Celery Compound. The first bottle produced a marvelous and happy effect; his life blood was being freshened and enriched; his appetite was improved; strength was taking the place of weakness; and the ruddy tinge of health was apparent in the once pale face. Mr. D. T. Stephenson, of Pilot Knob, Ind., writes as follows:

"Some years ago while serving as a member of the Indiana Legislature, I contracted a severe case of grippe, and was run down and completely out-of-sorts, and found but little relief from any remedy until I tried Paine's Celery Compound. The first bottle did me wonderful and marked good and its continued use for a short time, restored me to my usual vigor and freshness. Your Paine's Celery Compound has been used by my family since then for general prostration of the system, with the most gratifying results. Paine's Celery Compound is a great quietor and restorer to their normal condition; indeed its action on the nerves and nerve centres has been most gratifying in my case.

Spain to Uncle Sam.

Who fears to speak of '98?
Who blushes at the name?
The powers all arise and vaunt
Their peace producing fame.
The English say they did and dared
And were prepared to die,
But some one was against you then,
And that some one was I.

The Russians claim they took the lead
In staving off the rest;
The French declare they were for you
And did their level best
To keep the other powers cool
And make them let you be.
Somebody must have sought a fight,
And that was "little me."

The Germans show by book and note,
Italians strongly swear,
The Greeks and Turks and Chinese, too,
Their peacefulness declare
The Dutch, the Japs, the Portuguese
Lift up their friendly shout:
All say they worked in your behalf,
But you may count me out.

The Swiss, the Huns and Welsh as well
Were rallied at your side,
And one and all your friendship claim
And tell their tales with pride
But, Uncle Sam, I was your foe
And it was for the best;
I'm glad I kept you busy, for
You might have whipped the rest

Rheumatic Warped Limbs.

To suffer the most excruciating pains, to lose the use of limbs, and to have the joints swollen and disfigured is the lot of the victim of rheumatism.

Uric acid in the blood is the cause of rheumatism. If the kidneys are active, they remove the uric acid. That is their special work. If, on the other hand, the kidneys are deranged, there is sure to be uric acid in the blood and rheumatic pain through the body.

No amount of liniment will ever cure rheumatism. It sometimes relieves, but cure can only be brought about by setting the kidneys right. The most effective kidney remedy known to man is Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They cure rheumatism permanently by making the kidneys active in their work of removing the uric acid from the blood.

Mr. William J. Coad, No. 65 Brunson Street, Oswego, N. Y., writes: "I am very glad to praise Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and tell what they have done for me. I suffered for many years with severe constipation, rheumatism and kidney trouble, and could get no relief until I tried Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. In them I found immediate relief, and can honestly [illegible] them to other sufferers."

Wooltex FASHION FAULTLESS TRADE MARK

The Why of Wooltex.

The reasons back of a success are always interesting, so we shall explain one of the reasons why Wooltex garments have the popularity which they enjoy.

We were meeting great difficulty in obtaining as reliable garments as we wished to sell. The makers had endless troubles in selecting trustworthy cloth. Many a piece of cloth looked well when new, even looked well after it was made up but for some unknown reason did not look well after it was worn a short time. This was a puzzling enigma. The importance of it increased year by year. At last chemistry was called in to solve the problem. The Wootex acid test proved that adulteration was frightfully common in a large majority of cloths offered for sale. That was why they faded so soon, roughed up and looked shabby after but little wear.

Mills would sell a cloth as ALL WOOL and then they would hide behind the subterfuge that they ment commercially all wool, a term intended to cover a mixture of wool and cotton. Everybody knows the superiority of all wool goods, but the makers of Wooltex have been the first to discover a method of preventiug all adulterations in their garments.

Pure Wool Stock is the Basis of Every WOOLTEX Suit or Skirt.

That is why the WOOLTEX garments wear better and keep their fresh, new look longer than any other garments,

The linings are also tested by chemistry to insure fast colors, wear and durability. Makers so careful about their material are likely to be equally enterprising about theirstyles and a visit to our show room will convince you that WOOLTEX garments are exceedingly attractive.

THE FOUNTAIN, always on the alert for the best values for the money, have secured the agency for these celebrated goods and now have in stock a very large showing of the season's productions.

Buy a WOOLTEX and you will have something good.

West Virginia Miners' Warning to Coal Operators.

WILL GO OUT ON STRIKE IF IGNORED.

Seek a Meeting to Effect Annual Wage Settlement and Fix a Time Limit. Men of the Altoona District Still Out—Conference to Consider the Situation in Michigan.

Indianapolis, April 3.—[illegible] Virginia soft coal operators, it is reliably reported have until the last of this week to make up their minds whether or not they will meet their men in joint conference for the purpose of making an annual wage settlement. Thus far all efforts to get West Virginia miners to treat with the men as an organization have failed. After the last failure, a short time ago, it is understood the officials of the subdistricts of West Virginia were instructed to make one more attempt, and if they failed the sanction of the national was to be given for a general strike. This sanction means that the big organization will contribute funds for the support of striking members. The national executive board will have a meeting in Indianapolis Monday and will probably be in session several days as it is admitted at headquarters that it will be the most important meeting the board has held since it met here and ordered the great strike in the anthracite fields a year ago. The West Virginia miners are to send information to this city by the last of this week regarding the attitude of the operators, so it can be acted on by the national board. It would not be surprising, owing to the feeling among the miners, if a general strike in West Virginia is ordered without further delay, as there has been trouble there for a long time, a majority of the operators having steadfastly refused to recognize the organization.

Michigan Miners.

Indianapolis, April 3.—A conference between representatives of the operators and miners of Michigan and President Mitchell of the United Mine Workers will likely be held in this city with a view of bringing about a settlement of the strike inaugurated April 1. The strike affects the entire organization in Michigan, numbering about 1,700 men, and was called as the result of a disagreement over the wage scale. T. W. Davis of Saginaw, who has charge of the operators' side of the strike, and President W. F. Williams of the State Mine Workers' association, were called to this city by President Mitchell.
